About Swamiji

The founder of Shree Tapi Brahmcharyashram Sabha, Surat was born in Bhopapur village of Varanasi district in Uttar Pradesh on Shravan Sud Baras in Samvat 1942 that is 22nd August 1885. Born to a Brahmin farmer, his father had studied Law. His parental name was Lauhar Pandey. Swamiji obtained his primary education at Babatpur and for secondary education he went to Varanasi. At school, he was a bright student with command on Mathematics and English. Later, he migrated to Allahabad for his graduation. Swamiji obtained his B.Sc. degree in Physics and had also studied Western Philosophy. During his stay at Allahabad, he used to visit various religious places situated on the Triveni Sangam and came in contact with various Hindu Saints and Sages. During this time, he came in contact with Swami Shivanand Saraswati. He was greatly influenced by Swami Shivanand Saraswati to whom he met on the bank of river Ganga. Later, he took initiation to move on to religious path from Swami Shivanand Saraswati to become sanyasi and named was Atmanand Saraswati. He travelled all over India. Swamiji believed that for social reformation, education is the key role and celibacy plays a major role for character building of students. Therefore, he firmly believed that for upliftment and emancipation of society and country, ancient Gurukula system should be followed. It was his vision and desire that youth with good moral character and having spirit of serving selflessly can uplift the country. With these objectives in mind he wanted to establish a Brahmcharyashram. He selected a place on the banks of Tapi River in Varachha. He passed his knowledge of ayurved and skill of preparation of medicine to his students. Later, at Ashram, he started providing education in Ayurved on a small scale. With a passage of time the classes of teaching Ayurved grew and then he saw a dream of having an institute of Ayurved and a pharmacy for preparation of quality medicine. His dream came true with establishment of Ayurvedic College and of Pharmacy. He breathed his last on the bank of holy river Ganga on Fagun Sud Trij of Samvat 2002 that is 3rd March 1946.
